THANKFUL FOR SMALL FAVORS.

A lamb was in the habit of drinking out of a beautiful, crystal stream that run through the meadow where he was kept. An envious wolf, observing his delight, when he repaired, in the heat of the day, to the cooling water, ordered him never to drink there again, and the lamb was compelled to slake his thirst at a puddle that lay adjacent. But this foul and dirty pool was frequented by a lot of unfriendly hogs, who would not permit the lamb to drink with any content or satisfaction even there. So the lamb paid a visit to the wolf, and represented the difficulty of his position.—The wolf seemed for a wonder to be touched, but chided the lamb for having so often muddled the brook where he, the wolf, got his draughts of water, and told him, if he would resume his wonted sportiveness, and put on again his whilom cheerful countenance, he would see that he drank without molestation from the puddle. The lamb threw up his tail, and became as playful as a kitten, caressed the wolf—and said, "as an offering on the altar of peace, and in the hope that union and harmony might be restored between them on the basis of a universal right to the puddle and universal good feeling throughout the meadow," he would, under all the circumstances, accept the use of the puddle in a cheerful, contented spirit—and never wet his lips in the beautiful stream again. And the wolf kissed the lamb, and gave him a note to carry to the hogs, saying—"Let us have Peace—and try and enjoy our puddle like christians."—Examiner.

BARBARISM EXPOSED AND REBUKED.—The hardships and cruelties specially incident to the enforcement of the law for imprisonment for debt are unknown to thousands who have not been unfortunate enough to fall within the grasp of that law. Yet its operations are sufficiently extended to impose suffering and misery upon many families.

"Man's inhumanity to man
Makes countless thousands mourn."

The law of imprisonment for debt is comprehensive in the torture it produces, and it is, in the cases of a majority of the people upon whom it is inflicted, a law offering but little hope of escape. It is so completely surrounded by traps and meshes, into which the innocent victim is constantly falling, that years of incarceration are frequently the penalty of no crime whatever—not even a crime of intent, let alone of commission. An article in the Express a few days since, denouncing this relic of barbarism, ignorance, and malevolence, and giving one history illustrating its evil, its injustice, and its inefficiency in producing a good result for any body, has excited considerable attention, and brought to our table a large number of communications, some few of which we have contrived to find room for elsewhere. It will be very gratifying if we shall in any way contribute to the repeal of that which forms the basis of these complaints, and which disgraces the statues, the age in which we live, and is a mockery of christianity and christian principles.—N. Y. Express.

FIGHTING EXTRAORDINARY.—North vs. South. There was a fight between Northern and Southern fowls at New York on Monday. Twelve battles were fought, $200 each and $2,000 the main. The Northern cocks were victorious, winning eight fights out of the twelve. A New York paper says the contest was almost unequalled in the Northern States. The first six fights constituted the main, and the last was considered an outside one. A New York paper describing the scene and those present, says:

"It was a peculiar crowd, and one worthy of study. Imagine bankers, whose notes are worth thousands; drovers, whose cash in bank would excite the envy of millions; farmers, whose broad acres are not easily counted by scores; horsemen, racers and trotters in their trial of speed have been heralded the world over; hotel keepers, whose reputation for geniality and liberality cannot be excelled by any host in the land; blacksmiths, tanners, weavers, men of no work, and men of all work, and then we obtain a fair glimpse of those that mingled fraternally and joyously around the circle. The birds were of many different colors and strains. Those from the South, the word went forth, were of the 'Stone Fence' strain, but when it is mentioned that these gentlemen brought eighty birds with them, it must be recognized that they showed a decided mixture of blood. Those of the North were mostly of the grand old Long Island breed, who have fought and won many a mian, and whose gameness has been the crowning cry of bird raisers in this section for many years. The birds fought each other by pairs until one was killed in each instance, the survivor being hailed with cheers as the victor."

ARREST.—J. M. Walker, formerly tobacconist, merchant, &c., at Danville, was arrested in New York or Canada, and brought to Danville Tuesday night last. He is charged, as we learn, with hiring Joe Motley, negro, to burn certain insured property of his (Walker's) own, and drawing the insurance money. Mr. Walker had a factory, distillery, mill, &c., &c., burnt by incendiarism, all of which were insured. Joe, it seems, alleges that he was the incendiary, and that he was hired by Walker to apply the torch. This may all be so—but we protest that we could not believe Joe Motley on oath. A person who can be hired to play the incendiary, will swear to a lie for a drink of liquor. Walker may be guilty, but we could not convict him on Joe's testimony, unsupported by other evidence!—A villain who will act the incendiary, will swear to anything for five cents. But in this case there may be corroborative evidence—we do not know. We do know, however, that we came near breaking our neck jumping out of bed and running to some of these fires, to see if we could help to put them out, and if Joe Motley applied the torch, he deserves burning at the stake.—Them's our sentiments.—Milton Chronicle.

The New York Herald goes in for hanging because the person hanged, if the operation be successfully performed, experiences only three seconds of ante mortem horror—if bunglingly executed, three minutes of not very painful uneasiness, accompanying the fatal congestion of the brain—at the most, three minutes and three seconds of misery. How does the Herald man know? Has he ever been hung? Or does he anticipate hanging that he tries thus to mitigate its terrors?

NEW METHOD OF WASHING CLOTHES WITHOUT LABOR.

THE AUTOMATIC

CLOTHES WASHER AND BOILER.

THIS BOILER IS NOT EFFECTUAL, reliable and universally recommended. It can be used on any Stove or Range, in any boiler, and the LOW PRICE of the article places it within the reach of every family.

This Boiler operates upon purely philosophical principles, is self-acting, and dispenses with labor and the wear of the clothes.

The hot suds and steam, by the action of heat, are driven up through tubes poured upon the clothes, and forced through the fabric with astonishing rapidity, cleansing all articles, from the finest laces to the bed-blanket. For Flannels it is invaluable, as it does not full them as in the old process of rubbing and pressing.

The time required for cleansing a boiler full of clothes is twenty to thirty minutes, and nearly three hundred gallons of boiling suds are forced through the fabric, thoroughly loosening and eradicating the dirt without labor or friction.—A thorough rinsing finishes the process.

Washing day will no longer be a terror and dread to housewives. The cost of the Boiler will soon be returned in the SAVING OF TIME AND LABOR, and the great saving in the wear of clothes.

The great value of this invention appears so clear, and appeals so directly to common sense, that we have deemed it unnecessary to accompany its introduction with numerous letters of approval, &c.

No invention has met with such ready sale and given such satisfaction. Call at LOUGEE & BROTHER'S, and see its wonderful operations. We have the exclusive right to sell and manufacture in the State.

All orders must be addressed to J. B. HUNTER & CO., Raleigh, N. C. Jan 15-tf

LIFE INSURANCE.

The Most Vigorous and the Most Liberal Insurance Company in the Country.

BROOKLYN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY,

141 Broadway, N. Y.

ASSETS OVER

CHRISTIAN W. BOUCK, ..... President.
ABRAM D. POLHEMUS, ..... Vice President.
WILLIAM M. COLE, ..... Secretary.
D. P. FACKLER, ..... Consulting Actuary
DANIEL AYRES, M. D. LL.D., Med. Examiner.

POLICIES ISSUED AS GOOD AS UNITED STATES BONDS.

POLICIES VALUABLE IN LIFE AS AT DEATH!

The BROOKLYN LIFE is the only Company in the country which guaranties a definite surrender-value to every Policy on which two or more annual premiums have been paid; this amount, in dollars and cents, is endorsed on every Policy issued. Should any Policy-holder become unable to pay his premiums, he can thus know the cash worth of the Policy at any time after two annual premiums have been paid. This certainly is the greatest inducement and most tangible advantage ever accorded to parties insuring their lives.

Among the advantages offered by the BROOKLYN, which thoroughly evince the determination of the officers to make it the MOST LIBERAL Life Insurance Company in the United States, are:

1st TOTAL REMOVAL OF ALL RESTRICTIONS ON TRAVEL AND RESIDENCE. The Assured may travel or reside anywhere they choose, the world over, without extra premium or special permit.

2d. A Loan of one-third of the Premium to the Policy-Holder Annually.

3d. All Policies are non-forfeitable after two full annual premiums have been paid.

4th. Rates as low as are consistent with financial soundness, and less than those of almost all Companies which accommodate their assured with loans.

5th. Dividends annually (after second year) in cash. Dividends are divided on the CONTRIBUTION PLAN—the only equitable manner of dividing the earnings of a Life Insurance Company. The Contribution Plan was first conceived by Mr. D. P. Fackler, now Actuary of this Company and has been adopted by most of the best managed Life Companies in this country.

The BROOKLYN LIFE has paid and now pays to its Policy-holders LARGER DIVIDENDS than ever before paid by a Life Insurance Company!

6th. Promptitude in paying losses.

7th. No charge for policy or stamp.

The success which the "BROOKLYN" has achieved, fully exemplified in its rapid and healthful growth, is a convincing proof of the confidence reposed by the public in its soundness, integrity and liberality.

AND

BILLIARD SALOON

IN THE SOUTH.

THIS SALOON has been newly fitted in a style not equalled by any in the whole United States, as regards elegance and completeness.

THE BILLIARD SALOON contains two new Tables from the celebrated Manufactory of Phelan and Collende, which are universally acknowledged to be the best tables in the country. All things pertaining to a first-class Billiard Saloon will be found here.

THE RESTAURANT is under the supervision of one of the best cooks in the Southern States, and the cooking at this establishment cannot be surpassed in any city.

All the delicacies of the season will be found in the larder, while an ample supply of live birds is always on hand. Elegant Dinners and Suppers for parties, gotten up in the best style at short notice.

THE BAR contains the finest assortment of Wines, Liquors and Segars ever brought into the State, and in variety equals that of any bar in the country.

The public will always find polite and attentive bar-keepers to administer to their wants. Of the truth of these statements our large and steadily increasing patronage is the strongest testimony.

|---|---|
| Total Assets, over | $10,000,000 |
| Polices Insured in '67, | 15,251 |
| Am't insured, nearly | $45,000,000 |
| Policies Average " | 3,000 |
| Receipts for 1867, | 5,129,447 |
| Surplus for Dividends, | 2,000,000 |

Dividend Fifty per cent.

Receipts for Interest Nearly Paid Its Losses.

It has $130 Assets for every $100 Liabilities.

Its premium receipts at the present time are nearly HALF A MILLION DOLLARS per month and are rapidly increasing.

The growth of the Ætna has never been equaled by any other Company whatsoever, in Europe or America.

Particular attention is called to the fact that while its business is increasing unprecedentedly, its ratio of expenses is comparatively small.

ECONOMY of management, CARE in the selection of risks, promptness in the payment of death claims, and security in the investment of its immense Trust Funds, are rigidly adhered to, and have ever characterized this Company.

The ÆTNA issues all the favorite kinds of Policies at the most favorable rates.

The ÆTNA issued last year more Endowment Insurances than any other Company.

The ÆTNA'S ratio of expenses, or cost of new business is less than any other Company whatsoever, and less than two-thirds of the average.

The ÆTNA is as liberal in permits to travel, in all parts of the world, as a sound discretion will warrant, and is much more liberal than any other prominent Company.

ANNUAL INCOME over $6,000,000.

The only Company that has the Low Participating Non-forfeitable Term Insurance with privilege of renewal. Ex. of rate at age 30 $14 67, which is nearly 40 per cent. lower than any other leading Company. Also Non-forfeiting cash rates with dividends on contribution plan and payable at the end of the first year.

Description of Policies.

First—Whole Life Policies.

Second—Endowment Policies, for terms of ten fifteen, twenty, twenty-five, thirty, and thirty-five years.

AGES.

Insurance will be granted at all ages from fifteen to sixty years.

PREMIUMS.

Premiums are payable annually during the continuance of the insurance, or annually during a period of five, ten, fifteen, or twenty years within the insurance term, or by single payment.

DIVIDENDS.

All Whole Life and Endowment Policies, issued at the rates published herewith, will participate in the surplus from the date of issue,

The dividends will be declared and paid annually upon the contribution plan, and may be applied as the assured shall elect, either to reduce future premiums, or to increase the Cash Value of the Policy.

If no election be made the dividends will be added to the Cash Values.

When, by adding the dividends to the Cash Value, the accumulations on any Policy shall have become sufficient to keep the same in force for its full amount, without further payments, the assured may, at his option, either continue payment of premiums—and enlarge thereby the annual additions to its Cash Value—or discontinue them; and in either case, when the accumulations shall have become equal to the sum insured, the annual dividends on the Policy will be declared as a per centage of said sum, and paid in cash, and upon surrender of said Policy the sum insured thereby will be paid in full, without regard to the time fixed therein for its payment.

The system of applying the dividends is peculiarly advantageous to the assured, securing, at an increased age, not only relief from further payment of premiums, but, at the same time, an annual income until death, unless he shall have previously received full payment of the Policy.

Dividends on paid-up Policies—that is, Policies which require no further payment of premium to continue them in force for the original amount of insurance—will be paid in cash upon demand.

NON-FORFEITURE RULES.

No whole Life or Endowment Policy, on which two or more annual cash premiums have been paid, shall be forfeited by failure to make further payment as stipulated therein, but will continue in force for the full amount which the Cash Value and dividends, then accumulated, will purchase, taken as a single net premium, upon the "Actuaries" rate of mortality and four per cent. interest; and the amount continued in force will generally exceed the aggregate of the payments actually made, extra charges excepted.

SOUTHERN LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY.

PURELY A SOUTHERN INSTITUTION.

PRINCIPAL OFFICES:
Atlanta, Georgia; Memphis, Tennessee; Louisville, Kentucky.
CAPITAL STOCK, $228,500.
Nett Assets of the Company, July 1st, 1868, $320,942,66.

Insures lives, and promptly adjusts and pays losses. Its principal business is with Southern States, and to them it appeals for patronage. It has ample means to fully protect Policy holders and pay all losses.

The "Southern" combines the advantage of both note and cash system, stock and mutual—such as choose to pay cash may do so and secure a non-forfeitable policy and all the advantages of a Cash Company. The privilege of a permanent loan for one-third is granted to all who desire it.

It makes investments at home in good and reliable securities, thereby tending to make money more plenty in our midst, and to aid in developing the resources of our section and to stop the annual drain of over Six Million dollars, which are being sent North for Life Insurance.

Its profits are equitably distributed among Policy holders and Stockholders.

In its organization are presented men of experience in Life Insurance and their aim will be to make the "Southern Life" the exponent of the business, enterprise and progress of the present day.

THE SENTINEL.

JOSIAH TURNER, Jr., EDITOR.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 26, 1869.

We Repeat, OH, THE THIEVES!

OH, THE PENITENTIARY!

Oh, the Sale of the North Carolina Rail Road!

OH, RECONSTRUCTION!

OH, HOLDEN AND HIS ADMINISTRATION!

Oh, Gen. Littlefield, the absent Editor of the Standard!

OH, THE IMPUDENCE OF HIS PAPER, AS CONDUCTED BY THE REVEREND GODLESS PEPPER!

The profligacy of the times cannot be better illustrated than it is in the character of the Standard, while its Editor and Proprietor, General Littlefield, dare not make his personal appearance in the city, until the Legislative Committee on Bribery and Corruption shall have been discharged. Yet his paper can appear. The Holy bully, Right Rev. Pepper, the devil's vicegerent on earth, waving gallantly the banner of Littlefield, faction and corruption, can appear.

Yes, while the Editor himself fled, leaving behind him Judge Alden, and his paper, to corrupt the people's representatives. Hear his paper, in the absence of its absconding Editor:

"At last the Committee of investigation on fraud and corruption, has reported. At last, the character of the General Assembly, as a body, is vindicated; no spot tarnishes its honor, and the voice of suspicion has ceased its revilings. But one person is found to be in any way connected with any improper transaction, and he the very man who introduced the resolution that created the Committee.

We do not wish to treat so grave and important matter in a party manner, for there is but one way in which to consider it, as a knowingly false and reprehensible attack upon the honor of the people of North Carolina, through the General Assembly, the representatives of the people.

What are the facts elicited from the report of the Committee?

Two men, for some purpose known but to themselves, offer, in the Senate of North Carolina, resolutions which, until the facts are proven, impeach the honor and character of every member of the General Assembly. These charges they aver as Senators and gentlemen they are capable of sustaining. Weeks elapse and nothing is heard from the Committee. Public suspicion rests upon every member of the General Assembly; its acts are viewed with distrust, its character blackened at home and abroad; and, at last, members demand of the investigators of the charges why they are permitted so long to remain under an unjust reproach. They are informed by Mr. Sweet, that the charges are true, that he can prove them in five minutes, but he prefers to wait."

"This is the answer the people of North Carolina receive from one of their servants. Another week passes and still nothing is done. The General Assembly feels that its honor has been trifled with. A resolution is about to be introduced compelling a report from the Committee, when Mr. Sweet reluctantly yields to that which he cannot longer resist. And such a report; it is a simple acknowledgment that there is no evidence that fraud has ever been perpetrated; that with exception of the bribery of which one of the Committee itself was guilty, no bribery has even been committed, and that not the slightest ground for these charges ever existed.

The report concludes by the request to be discharged, and is signed by W. H. Sweet. And this, after he pledged his sacred word of honor as a gentleman and a Senator, that he could and would prove the truth of his charges. Was utter shameless ness ever more strikingly shown. This man who, undoubtedly for purposes of malice and revenge charged dishonor upon the legislative body of which he has proven himself an unworthy member, and which he has so long suffered to remain under a disgrace he well knew to be unmerited, unmindful of the honor of a Senator and a gentleman, by which he pledged himself to prove his charges true, coolly and without shame, owns that he does not know of the existence of any fraud and never did.

We do not wish to pursue this subject farther, and have only given our readers a fair and unprejudiced statement of the case that they may judge for themselves where the dishonor lies, and upon whom the disgrace should fall. That Mr. Robbins will escape unpunished we do not believe; but that the Senate will hold Mr. Sweet to a rigid account, and demand of him his reasons for so wickedly and unjustly assailing its reputation is sure. In this matter we rise above party. If we were influenced by party considerations we should defend Mr. Sweet because he is a Republican. But we publish a journal for the people, and now, as we promised weeks ago, demand the punishment of the guilty. False to his word as a gentleman, recreant to his vows as a Senator, traducer of the honor of his adopted State, let the Senate of that State deal with him as an unworthy member, and demand the atonement due its outraged honor."

Now this beats Cataline when Cicero drove him out from Rome, drunk with fury, and breathing mischief, threatening to revisit the city with fire and sword.—Cicero said, "at length, Romans we are rid of Cataline; he is gone; he is fled; he has escaped; he has broken away. No longer, within the very walls of the city, shall he plot her ruin. His flight is the confession of his guilt." Would that his attendants had not been so few. The attendants of our Cataline preceded him. Mrs. Ann Cavalry, and her husband, preceded him; Mrs. Ann Cavalry knew of bribery and corruption. She so spoke to carpet-bag members; she suggested a Committee of investigation; carpet bag members declined to move for the Committee. She talked with Senator Sweet. He moved for the Committee. When the Committee is raised Gen. Littlefield is a frequent visitor at the Hotel where boards Mrs. Ann Cavalry. He is known to have been closeted, yes, shut up with her in the Exchange Hotel—holding more than one interview with this lady, her husband being cognizant of the fact.

On Monday the 7th, day of December, cold, dark and rainy, Mrs. Ann Cavalry at twenty minuts before 8 o'clock, leaves the Exchange Hotel, takes the Omnibus for St. Mary's School to visit her neice; instead of returning to the Hotel, she went to the depot,—at twenty minutes past 9 o'clock she took the train for Richmond, without husband or attendant, carpet-bag, night capt or night gown, without the knowledge of the landlord, or of a single boarder of the house. On the next train followed her bonnet box and Saratoga trunk.

When Senator Sweet asked her husband when she would return, and if she had relations in Richmond, Mr. Cavalry said she had none and would return in a day or two. Yet the fact is, and we know it to be so, she has engaged board at the Spotswood House in Richmond for a month. And thus did Littlefield triumph over Sweet. Thus did wickedness triumph over virtue; and falsehood over truth. Since General Littlefield and his comrads, Mrs. and Mr. Caverly left, Judge Alden has also overtaken them, not on the Aurelian road as Cataline did his confederate, but on the Railroad.

Now, we say to our carpet-bag Cicero (Senator Sweet) who drove out the carpet-bag Cataline (Gen. Littlefield) and his comrads, don't be dismayed by the drunken fury of Cataline's paper, conducted by a hypocritical priest and military preacher. The Senate and the city understand you, Colonel Sweet. The State and the people understand you. The men of property, proberty and virtue understand you. They have had their doubts about you. The manner in which you have discharged your duty to the State, and driven out Cataline and his confederates, has, in a measure, dispelled the doubts which they once entertained.

Cicero said that against Cataline and his horde, all the strength and flower of Italy were combined. We say, on the side of Col. Sweet, all the strength and flower, and virtue, and honesty, and intelligence of North Carolina are combined. On his side is chastity, on the other, wantonness. On his side is purity, on theirs pollution. On his side is integrity, on theirs, treachery, bribery and corruption. On his side is piety, on theirs Pepper, and profanity, and pollution. On his side struggles native honesty; on theirs, baseness. On his side, prudence, equity, temperance and justice, on theirs, struggle iniquity, bribery, cowardice, flight, hypocrisy and every vice.

In such a conflict if mortality shall fail, God will surely cause such patriotic virtue to triumph over such barefaced vice.

$50.000 REWARD!

ANOTHER CARPET-BAGGER ON THE WING!!

Judge Alden is off. We never saw him, and, therefore, can't describe his personal or intellectual characteristics. He shall be more fully described when our friends shall describe him to us. Send in your description of this flying carpet bagger! He belonged to Governor Holden's reconstruction staff of the last campaign.

He, with Judge Dick, Judge Settle, Judge Jones, Judge Cloud, Judge Tourgee, Hon. Windy Billy Henderson, indicted for stealing Darr's mule, gave the people, last summer, lessons in "loyalty." Now, Judge Alden proposes to give their representatives lessons in roguery, in bribery and corruption.

If he travels by way of Egypt, in Chatham, the people there will know him as the man to whom our friend M. Q. Waddell replied. If he travels by the way of Roon Hill, he will be known as the man to whom Dr. John R. Thompson replied. On that occasion the carpet-bag Judge asked, with a loud voice and triumphant air, "where are the secessionists! No man can find them. Where are the secessionists, I repeat." Dr. Thompson answered, on your ticket, Sir. Look on the Republican ticket, in the Republican party, there you find them: Holden, Redman, Settle, Cantwell and Dick—the great lights of Secession, and signers of the ordinance.

If the unbribed members can hold the bribed members back, so that they be not too hot on their march in the sale of the North Carolina Railroad, and before they sell that property hear Judge Alden, he may tell them of the bribery and corruption of certain persons.

The sale of the Road is a Penitentiary business. There is the same necessity for selling the Road that there was for buying 8,000 acres of land upon which to locate the Penitentiary.

We will continue this advertisement, and make it more intelligible as to dress, height and weight, as soon as we are informed ourselves. The reward will be paid, not in gold, but in the currency named for the personal appearance of the Editor of the Standard.

JAMES, JOHN AND WILLIAM.

Macauly says, "of James the first as of John, it may be said that if his administration had been able and splendid, it would probably have been fatal to the country. And we owe more to his weakness and meanness than to the wisdom and courage of much better sovereigns."

If people can be made to owe anything to the meanness of a ruler, and the meaner the ruler the greater the obligation, we think the people of North Carolina will at the end of his administration be greatly obliged to their William.

WE SHOULD here say, we don't know Capt. Sweet, never spoke to him,—don't know that we ever shall; but we tell him not to have his Committee discharged; if he does, Gen. Littlefield, Judge Alden and his confederates will return. Keeping them out, the North Carolina Railroad may be saved. They returning, its sale is as certain as the location of the Penitentiary.

On motion of Mr. Sinclair, the rules were suspended, and the bill regulating the granting of divorces, was taken up.

On motion, the bill was read section by section. After some discussion, the bill passed its third reading.

On motion of Mr. Malone, the rules were suspended, and the bill making it a misdemeanor for county officers to speculate in county claims, was taken up. After being variously amended past its several readings.

SPECIAL ORDER.

Senate bill No. 27 to consolidate the Atlantic and North Carolina R. R. and the North Carolina R. R. Co. The bill was read for the third time, when,

Mr. Downing offered the following amendment to the bill;

Provided, That the provisions of this act are not to be considered as directory to those who may represent the interest of the State of North Carolina in the meeting of the stockholders, provided for in this act, but such proxy or representative of the State's interest may vote on the question of consolidation as he or they may suppose the interest of the State of North Carolina may require.

Mr. Seymour objected to the amendment. Messrs Downing and Sinclair, advocated its adoption.

Mr Malone said:

I am compelled to oppose the amendment of the Representative of Union. He proposes that the State's proxy shall control this whole question of consideration. The State owns, say five millions of dollars, in those two Roads; the stock is not very valuable now; the dividends of these Roads are not large; and if this House believes that it best subserves the interest of the State, it is bound, by its duties, to vote for this bill. We are not here to legislate for a few men, or for any particular interested combination. But we should look carefully to the great aggregate interest of the people. Here we have five millions of dollars, belonging to the State. Shall we not guard this very large interest. The bill proposes to allow the Stockholders to vote upon the question. Let us represent the State, and the Stockholders will protect their own interest. If the consolidation pays the State, is it not bound to pay the private Stockholders. I hope this bill will pass, as it stands.

Mr. Downing took the floor in defence of his amendment. He argued upon the principle that consolidation would not result advantageously to the State.

Mr. Welch was in favor of consolidation. He wished the bill to pass in its original shape. He would vote against all amendments. He thought that if consolidation was carried through, the State would receive an interest from one hundred and twenty to one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. He did not think the rights of private stockholders would be at all interferred with or jeopardized in the least, but, on the other hand, if the interest of the State was enhanced by consolidation that of the stockholders was of necessity bound to be advanced with it.

Mr. W. continued for some time in showing the advantages that would accrue to the State by the passage of this measure in the shape of the friends of it desired.

Mr. Sinclair rose again to the floor in opposition to the measure.

Mr. Seymour asked him how he intended to vote on the measure, in selling the State interest in the different roads, when it should come up.

Mr. Sinclair replied that, if a proposition should come up to sell one or two roads he should vote for it if he thought the State would be benefitted by it.

Mr. Sinclair resumed, and in his remarks, said the movement in his opinion would eventually culminate in a proposition to sell both roads, and would certainly oppose the measure unless it could be plainly shown that it would be benefitted by it.

The question recurring upon Mr. Downing's amendment, the yeas and nays were called, and resulted in the following ballot;

AYES.—Messrs. Ashworth, Blair, Carson, Downing, Forkner, Gahagan, Gibson, Graham, Hedgpeth, Hoffman, Justus of Henderson, Justice, of Rutherford, Kinney, Long, of Richmond, Mendenhall, Proctor, Ragland, Rea, Renfrow, Sinclair, Sykes, colored, Williamson, Wiswall.—23.

NAYES.—Ames, Armstrong, Banner, Barnett, Barnes, Bowman, Candler, Carey, colored, Clayton, of Transylvania, Davis, Davidson, Durham, Ellington, Estes, Farrow, Strebee, Foster, Gilbert, Green, Hawkins, Hayes, colored, Hendricks, Hicks, High, Hinnant, Hodnett, Hudgings, Jarvis, Kelly, of Davie, Kelly, of Moore, Leary, colored, Malone, Matheson, Mayo, McCanless, McMillan, Morrill, Morris, colored, Nicholson, Parker, Pearson, Peck, Price, Proffitt, Robbins, colored, Reynolds, Seymour, Shaver, Siegrist, Simonds, Smith, of Alleghany, Snipes, Stanton, Stevens, Stilley, Sweat, colored, Thompson, Vestal, Vest, Waldrop, Welch, Whitley, Williams, of Harnett, Wilson.—65.

Mr. Downing moved to indefinitely postpone the whole bill. Lost.

Mr. Durham moved to strike out in section 2 line 2 all after the word "stock" down to the word "being" in line 6. Carried.

[This strikes out the amendment offered by himself when the bill was first discussed.]

Mr. Argo offered the following amendment: After the word "majority" in line 9 section 2 insert the words "of the private stockholders in addition to the State proxy."

Mr. Argo said he was a friend to the bill but did not wish to force consolidation.

Mr. Durham said that the amendment of the gentleman from Orange (Argo) was subject to exactly the same objections that the one which he had offered, &c.

After some further debate Mr. Argo withdrew the amendment.

The question then recurring upon the bill on its final passage, the yeas and nays were called and resulted in the following ballot:

YEAS—Messrs. Allison, Ames, Argo, Armstrong, Banner, Barnett, Barnes, Bowman, Candler, Carson, Carey, (colored,) Clayton, of Transylvania, Davis, Davidson, Durham, Ellington, Estes, Farrow, Strebee, Foster, Gilbert, Green, Hawkins, Hendricks, Hicks, High, Hodnett, Hudgings, Ingram, Justus, of Henderson, Justice, of Rutherford, Kelly, of Davie, Kelly, of Moore, Leary, (colored,) Malone, Matheson, Mayo, (colored,) McCanless, McMillan, Morrill, Morris, (colored,) Nicholson, Parker, Peck, Price, (colored,) Proffit, Reynolds, (colored,) Seymour, Shaver, Siegrist, Simonds, Smith, of Alleghany, Snipes, Stanton, Stevens, Stilley, Sweat, (colored,) Thompson, Vestal, Vest, Waldrop, Welch, Whitley, Williams, of Harnett and Wilson.

NAYS.—Messrs. Strebee, Forkner, (colored,) Franklin, Gahagan, Gibson, Hayes, (colored,) Hinnant, Hodgin, Jarvis, Kinney, Long, of Richmond, Mendenhall, Pou, Proctor, Williams, of Sampson, Williamson, (colored,) and Wiswall.

On motion the House then adjourned until half past seven o'clock, this evening.

A CURIOUS DISCLOSURE.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Times states a fact which he says has never hither to been publicly known, that, towards the end of May, 1863, after several failures in assaults upon the Confederate works at Vicksburg, an order was sent from Washington to Gen. Banks, (then investing Port Hudson, above New Orleans,) directing him to go and take the command of the army from Gen. Grant, and to assume it himself. Though the order was an imperative one, Gen. Banks did not obey it, but replied expostulating against it. This was followed by a renewed command to supercede Grant, and when the impolicy of the step was again pointed out by Banks, he was severely censured for disobedience of orders. The correspondence bade fair to be indefinitely prolonged, when Vicksburg fell. It is added that Gen. Grant never knew of all this until within a month, every scrap of paper bearing upon the subject having been spirited away from the archives of the department, while Banks kept his own counsel.—*Balt. ### WHO INVENTED THE MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH?

A writer in the Sentinel claims the invention of the Magnetic Telegraph for Julius L. Clemmons, on the ground, that "thirty odd years ago, when a student at a Virginia college, he originated the idea of communicating thoughts and words by means of electricity," and afterwards "communicated his ideas to Prof. Morse." Now there is a difference between originating an idea, and making an invention; the first is only to conceive that a thing can be done; the second is to change that conception into a fact by actually doing it. This distinction is recognized by all patent laws: an idea is not the subject of a patent, an invention is. In this case, the truth is, that the science of electricity had been carried so far, that from known facts, the idea of the magnetic telegraph might and did suggest itself to several minds, acting separately and independently of each other. This is usually the case in such matters. A great invention is seldom made that rival candidates do not spring up for the honor of having made it, because the science on which it depends has been carried to that point whence the next step, almost necessarily, leads to the invention. This fact, however, does not relieve one who appropriates the idea of another, founds an invention on it, and heralds it to the world as all his own, from the charge of disingenuousness and ingratitude.

The idea of the telegraph was original with Mr. Clemmons; but his mind was not the first to which it occurred. He became convinced of the feasibility of it "thirty odd years ago," that is, between 1829 and 1838. Another North Carolinian, Dr. Wm. A. Turner, of Bertie county, over fifty years ago, that is in 1811, in a letter written from Nashua, N. H., to his brother, Thomas Turner, Esq., of Windsor, N. C., after mentioning some experiments in electricity, goes on to say, that if there was a wire from Nashua to Windsor with a battery in each place, they might, by means of pre-concerted signals, converse together with almost as much ease as if face to face. Here is the idea again, but it is a mere idea. Turner originated the idea in 1811; so did Clemmons some twenty years later; but Morse changed the idea into a fact by inventing the system of telegraphing.

Turner was in Nashville at the time this letter was written, superintending the construction of models of two inventions of his; one an improvement in safety valves of steam engines; the other a machine for counting coin. Both were pirated from him by shrewed Yankees of that locality.—The first made the fortune of the rogue who stole it, and the patent having expired, is in universal use; the last was sold for a handsome sum to the government, and is, or was a few years since, used in the U. S. Mint.—Turner never received a cent for either.

But, after all, Morse, who, it seems, borrowed the idea of it from Clemmons, did not even invent the first magnetic telegraph. Arthur Young saw one in actual operation in Paris, in 1787, and thus describes it, in his travels in France:

"In the evening made a visit to Mons. Lomond, a very ingenious and inventive mechanic. In electricity, he has made a remarkable discovery; you write two or three words on a paper; he takes it with him into a room and turns a machine enclosed in a cylindrical case at the top of which is an electrometer, a small fine pith ball; a wire connects with a similar cylinder and electrometer in a distant apartment and his wife, by remarking the corresponding motions of the ball, writes down the words they indicate," from which it appears he has formed an alphabet of motions. As the length of the wires makes no difference in the effect, a correspondence might be carried on any distance; within and without a besieged town, for instance; or for a purpose much more worthy, and a thousand times more harmless, between two lovers prohibited or prevented from any better communications."

This extract will be found on page 135, Vol. 1st, of the Dublin edition of Young's France, published in 1793 and certainly describes a magnetic Telegraph in actual operation. It may be asked why this invention slumbered so long in obscurity and nothing came of it. The answer is easy.—In a few short months after Young saw it in Paris, the States General met, and the first French Revolution burst over the land in all its bloody fury. Radicalism ruled the hour and of course science was blotted out. M. Lomond perished on the scaffold; and but for the chance visit of an English agriculturalist, all knowledge of his beautiful invention would have perished with him. Had Arthur Young been profoundly a writer on science the attention of the learned might have been called to the subject, but the book of an agricultural tourist, who treated of pigs and clover and sub-soiling was likely to be overlooked by them as possessing no charms for the philosophical mind. At all events to M. Lomond, undoubtedly, belongs the honor of having invented the first magnetic Telegraph. Did Prof. Morse steal from him also?

Select Male and Female School.

WITH A VIEW to the education of my children, I propose opening a Select School for BOYS and GIRLS, at my residence, in Warren County, North Carolina, on the 1st February next.

This School will be under the immediate charge of Capt. J. A. GOODWYN, a gentleman well qualified, both by experience and thorough education, to instruct in all the branches usually taught in the highest Schools. The strictest attention will be paid to the PRIMARY BRANCHES, as well as to the Classics, and every effort will be used to make the mode of instruction thorough.

All who may be entrusted to my care will receive that kind and parental attention extended to my own children.

Look Out for the "Live Giraffe."

THIS PAPER, which has been suspended for some years, will again be issued in this City about the first of February, 869.

It is the intention of the proprietor to make it one of the most interesting and amusing, as well as the cheapest papers in the whole South. Some of the best of its former correspondents have been engaged to contribute to its columns, among them "COL. MOSE," whose writings alone would cure any man of the gout and loosen the skin on the tightest hide-bound miser in Wall Street, or the most sanctimonious saint who made his fortune and christian character by shaving notes at 50 per cent. A gentleman of considerable notoriety as a humorist, has been engaged to take charge of the Editorial department, whose name will appear in the first issue.

While we shall always make it a point to amuse, it shall no less be our aim to instruct, reprove, censure and edify. Our columns being independent we shall not hesitate to discuss any measure whether of Church or State, nor shall we shrink from the responsibility of showing up the wiles and deceits of unscrupulous politicians. In addition to this we shall offer to the ladies as choice a selection of Literature as can be found in any paper of like pretensions.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

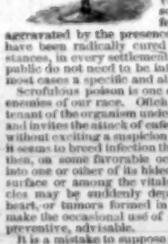
FOR PURIFYING THE BLOOD.



The reputation this excellent medicine enjoys, is derived from its cures, many of which are of a truly marvellous character. Inveterate cases of scrofula, where the system seemed utterly given up to corruption, have yielded to this compound of anti-strumous virtues. Disorders of a scrofulous type, and affections which are merely aggravated by the presence of scrofulous matter, have been radically cured in such numerous instances, in every settlement in the country, that the public do not need to be informed that this is in most cases a specific and absolute remedy.

Scrofulous poison is one of the most destructive enemies of our race. Often, this unseen and unfelt tenant of the organism undermines the constitution, and invites the attack of enfeebling or fatal diseases, without exciting a suspicion of its presence. Again, it seems to breed infection throughout the body, and then, on some favorable occasion, rapidly develop into one or other of its hideous forms, either on the surface or among the vitals. In the latter, tubercles may be suddenly deposited in the lungs or heart, or tumors formed in the liver. These facts make the occasional use of the Sarsaparilla as a preventive, advisable.

It is a mistake to suppose that so long as no eruptions or humors appear, there must be no serious taint. These forms of derangement may never occur, and yet the vital forces of the body be so reduced by its subtle agency, as materially to impair the health and shorten the duration of life. It is a common error, also, that scrofula is strictly hereditary. It does, indeed, descend from parent to child, but is also engendered in persons born of pure blood. Low living, indigestion, foul air, licentious habits, uncleanliness, and the depressing vices generally, produce it. Weakly constitutions, where not fortified by the most constant and judicious care, are peculiarly liable to it. Yet the robust, also, whose turbid blood swells the veins with an apparently exuberant vitality, are often contaminated, and on the road to its consequences. Indeed, no class or condition can depend on immunity from it, nor feel insensible to the importance of an effectual remedy.

In St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, for Tetter, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ringworm, Sore Ears and Eyes, and other eruptive or visible forms of the disease caused primarily by the scrofulous infection, the Sarsaparilla is so efficient as to be indispensable. And in the more concealed forms, as in Dyspepsia, Dropsy, Heart Disease, Fits, Epilepsy, Neuralgia, and other affections of the muscular and nervous systems, the Sarsaparilla, through its purifying power, removes the cause of the disorder and produces astonishing cures.

The sarsaparilla root of the tropics does not by itself achieve these results. It is aided by the extracts combined with it, of still greater power. So potent is this union of healing virtues, Syphilis or Venereal and Mercurial Diseases are cured by it, though a long time is required for subduing these obstinate maladies by any medicine. Leucorrhœa or Whites, Uterine Ulcerations, and Female Diseases in general, are commonly soon relieved and ultimately cured by the invigorating and purifying effect of our Sarsaparilla. Rheumatism and Gout, often dependent on the accumulations of extraneous matters in the blood, have their remedy also in this medicine. For Liver Complaints, torpidity, inflammation, abscess, etc., caused by rankling poisons in the blood, we unhesitatingly recommend the Sarsaparilla.

This medicine restores health and vigor where no specific disease can be distinguished. Its restorative power is soon felt by those who are Languid, Listless, Despondent, Sleepless, and filled with Nervous Apprehensions or Fears, of who are troubled with any other of those affections symptomatic of weakness. Many, after taking it for General Debility, have written us of the youthful vigor imparted to their nervous system, which seemed buoyant with that prolific life they thought had departed on the advance of age. Others, whose fountains of life were always sterile, acknowledge their obligations to it for an obvious change.

Ayer's Ague Cure,

For Fever and Ague, Intermittent Fever, Chill Fever, Remittent Fever, Dumb Ague, Periodical or Bilious Fever, &c., and indeed all the affections which arise from malarious, marsh, or miasmatic poisons.

As its name implies, it does Cure, and does not fail. Containing neither Arsenic, Quinine, Bismuth, Zinc, nor any other mineral or poisonous substance whatever, it in nowise injures any patient. The number and importance of its cures in the ague districts, are literally beyond account, and we believe without a parallel in the history of medicine. Our pride is gratified by the acknowledgments we receive of the radical cures effected in obstinate cases, and where other remedies had wholly failed.

Unacclimated persons, either resident in, or travelling through miasmatic localities, will be protected by taking the AGUE CURE daily.

For Liver Complaints, arising from torpidity of the Liver, it is an excellent remedy, stimulating the Liver into healthy activity.

To the People of the Southern States.

NEW YORK, Nov. 3, 1868.

When the pure medicinal restorative, now so widely known as Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, was introduced into the world under the endorsement of four thousand leading members of the medical profession some 20 years ago, its proprietor was well aware that it could not wholly escape the penalty attached to all new and useful preparations. He, therefore, endeavored to invest it with strongest possible safeguard against counterfeiters, and to render all attempts to pirate it difficult and dangerous. It was submitted to distinguished chemists for analysis, and pronounced by them the purest spirit ever manufactured. Its purity and properties having been thus ascertained, samples of the article were forwarded to ten thousand physicians, including all the leading practitioners in the United States, for purposes of experiment. A circular, requesting a trial of the preparation and a report of the result, accompanied each specimen. Four thousand of the most eminent medical men in the Union promptly responded. Their opinions of the article were unanimously favorable. Such a preparation, they said, had long been wanted by the profession, as no reliance could be placed on the ordinary liquors of commerce, all of which were more or less adulterated, and therefore unfit for medical purposes. The peculiar excellence and strength of the oil of juniper, which formed one of the principal ingredients of the Schnapps, together with an analogous character of the alcoholic element, give it, in the estimation of the faculty, a marked superiority over every other diffusive stimulant as a diuretic, tonic and restorative.

These satisfactory credentials from professional men of the highest rank were published in a condensed form, and enclosed with each bottle of the Schnapps, as one of the guarantees of its genuineness. Other precautions against fraud were also adopted; a patent was obtained for the article, the label was copyrighted, a fac simile of the proprietor's autograph signature was attached to each label and cover, his name and that of the preparation were embossed on the bottles, and the corks were sealed with his private seal. No article ever been sold in this country under the name of schnapps prior to the introduction of Wolfe's Schiedam Schnapps, in 1851; and the label was deposited, as his trade mark, in the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York during that year.

It might be supposed by persons unacquainted with the daring character of the pirates who prey upon the reputation of honorable merchants by vending deleterious trash under their name, that the protections so carefully thrown around these schnapps would have precluded the introductions and sale of counterfeits. They seem, however, only to have stimulated the rapacity of impostors. The trade mark of the proprietor has been stolen; the indorsement which his Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps alone received from the medical profession has been claimed by unscrupulous hucksters; his labels and bottles have been imitated, his advertisements paraphrased, his circulars copied, and worse than all, dishonorable retailers, after disposing of the genuine contents of his bottles, have filled them up with common gin, the most deleterious of all liquors, and thus made his name and brand a cover for poison.

The public, the medical profession and the sick for whom the Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps is prescribed as a remedy, are equally interested with the proprietor in the detection and suppression of these nefarious practices. The genuine article, manufactured at the establishment of the undersigned, in Schiedam, Holland, is distilled from a variety of the finest quality, and flavored with an essential extract of the berry of the Italian juniper, of unequaled purity, by a process unknown in the preparation of any other

DIGEST OF NEWS.

We understand, says the Newbern Journal of Commerce, that the place of sepulture of Col. John Williams, about seven miles from Kinston, was broken into a night or two since, and his remains carried no one knows where. The body had been consigned to the tomb more than eighteen years ago.

The authors of this gross outrage are unknown. Their object is supposed to have been to secure the silver mountings of the coffin in which the corpse was confined.

A SUPPOSED MYSTERIOUS MURDER.—Within the last few days developments have been made which lead to the supposition that a negro boy, some ten or twelve years of age, was murdered some time last summer upon the farm of Mr. Burton Powell, on the line of the Wilming on Road between this place and Halifax. It seems that the boy in question, the step-son of one Williams, negro, was at that time missing, but it was told by his father and mother that he had run away from home. Since Christmas some younger children of Williams has developed the fact that the boy was cruelly murdered by his step-father, his mother burying him somewhere on the plantation—the children having been kept quiet by threats. Efforts have been made, we understand, to investigate the affair, but we have not learned of either the recovery of the body of the supposed murdered boy or the arrest of Williams and his guilty consort.—Roanoke News.

A fifty-dollar counterfeit greenback has been detected, in which old Benjamin Franklin has too many buttons on his vest.

An old negro man, named Jim Turner, dropped dead on the streets of Hillsboro' a few days ago. He once belonged to Josiah Turner, Sr.

An old negro man from the neighborhood of Durham's "kept the peace of his house" on Wednesday last, by swearing his wife and two sons into jail.

The Hillsboro' Recorder says, two negro women who were confined for murder, broke jail at that place on Monday last. The Sheriff tracked them below Durham's.

The subject of truck farming in North Carolina is beginning to attract attention, and will be extensively entered into, especially on the line of the Wilmington and Weldon Railroad.

Work on the Williamston & Tarboro' Railroad is to be commenced forthwith.

A Dr. French is astonishing the natives of Wilmington by his marvelous cures of rheumatism by animal magnetism. We have heard, within a few days, that a case of this distressing malady has been cured in this City, by the sufferer simply carrying an Irish potato in his pocket.

The Hillsboro' Recorder says, Capt. Jno. F Lyon, of Orange County, met with a serious accident at his grist mill on Eno, last week. He was standing above the top cast iron wheels, engaged in "bushing the spindle" when the large wheel caught the end of his coat and drew him upon it. The wheels ran close to each other—their shoulders not more than a quarter of an inch apart—and it is thought that a pair of thick gloves, in the pocket of his coat, saved his life in causing the wheel to break—throwing him off into the 'water-house" below. His abdomen was very much bruised and his hip bone broken.

The dwelling house and kitchen situated on the extension of 'College Avenue," Chapel Hill, and belonging to a Mr. Wm. Peters, of Norfolk, Va., were burned down on Friday night, the 15th inst. The house we learn was occupied by the Rev. Solomon Pool, the Revenue Collector of this district, as an office. All the official papers in Mr. Pool's charge were destroyed by the fire.

The Milton Chronicle says Mr. John G. Lea, of that County, had a valuable barn and a large quantity of fine tobacco destroyed by fire a few nights ago. There was an insurance on the tobacco, for about half the loss. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

BEAR.—One of our butchers exposed for sale, from his stall, a fat bear, last Saturday morning. It went off at remunerative prices.

In New York, on Wednesday, a fire at the Derby Athenæum destroyed Rothermill's painting of the last reception of President Lincoln at the white house. The painting was valued at $30,000 and insured.

Wm Holmes is dead. He was for many years associate editor of the Missouri Republican.

E. B. Holden, Esq., in a communication to the Milton Chronicle, says that in digging a well on the farm of Mrs. Eliza Currie, in Caswell County, not long since, the hands struck a vein of copper, and you would be surprised to see what a quantity of copper ore was taken out. The same vein was struck upon the farm of Mrs. Lucy Pool, about a mile West from Mrs. Currie's. My own impression is that this mine could be worked with great profit, and any gentleman or company wishing to examine it, can do so by calling on me or addressing me a letter at Leasburg, Caswell County.

The Charlotte Times is pleased to give shape and body to the rumor that the ladies of St. Peter's (Episcopal) Church, assisted by others of the City, intend shortly to present a series of Tableaux, &c., the proceeds to go towards repairing the Episcopal Church in that City.

There are 400 patients in the Illinois Insane Asylum.

Nevada is a fast State. It has just produced a six year old incendiary.

A New Orleans inventor has made a carriage that runs by spring power, wound up like a clock.

Nearly five hundred persons died of small pox in Montreal last year.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.—"The Live Giraffe,"—new paper—D. W. Whitaker & Co., Raleigh. The times require a very long necked animal to keep up with the frauds and corruptions.

OUR PEOPLE, proverbial for church going, turned out in their full strength, last Sabbath, and we learn that the churches were all well filled, and that the services were unusually interesting. A friend, who attended the Rev. Mr. Pritchard's Church, (Baptist,) informs us that this eloquent divine took for his text, the 6th verse of the 4th chapter of Nehemiah, and for more than an hour, in a style, peculiarly his own, Dr. Pritchard, held, as it were, in breathless silence, the attention of his immense congregation. Unity of action, among Christians, formed the theme of his discourse.

The revival at this Church continues to increase in interest.

FURNITURE WARE ROOMS.—One of the notable improvements, in the city, is the fitting up of the Furniture Ware Rooms of A. W. Fraps, on the corner of Fayetteville and Davie Streets. Large and commodious rooms have been erected and these are filled with the most varied styles and patterns of Furniture,—from that adapted for the most elegant Parlor or Bed-room to that which is suitable for the Professional office or business counting-rooms. It is well worth a visit to Mr. Fraps' rooms to inspect his new, beautiful and substantial articles,—all of which, we are sure, can be obtained on reasonable terms. Altogether, Mr. F's. establishment is one of the most complete of its kind we have ever seen, and furnishes a pleasing evidence of business progress.

COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.—This tribunal, for the trial of special causes, commenced in this City, Judge Watts, presiding. There is considerable business on docket, which will, perhaps, consume two weeks in its disposal.

BUSHY HEAD, Chief of the Cherokee Indians, in the western portion of North Carolina, is still in this City. He is, we understand, a member of the Baptist Church, at home. He is a fine specimen of the red man.

YESTERDAY, the weather reminded us of early Spring: bright sun, and temperature mild and agreeable, which, together with the influx of country people led us to feel, for a moment, as we were wont to feel in other and better times, on the first days of our Spring Term of the old Court of Pleas and Quarter Sessions. We have been favored with the calls of many of our country friends, and would be, at all times, glad to have them visit us.

THE LAND WE LOVE, for February, is promptly at hand, looking exceedingly well, and filled as usual, with interesting matter. It contains seventeen articles of unusual merit. The leader is from that old hero, General Jubal Early. "Concentrative Immigration" is a powerful article on a most important subject. "Women and the lives of Women" is an eloquent rebuke of the misrepresentations of the sex, by a Missouri authoress of reputation. Besides this, there are historical and biographical sketches, ornithology, fiction and poetry. The poetry is by Mrs. Downing, Mrs. Weiss (formerly, Miss Susan Archer Talley,) and J. Augustine Signaigo.

OUR readers will please bear in mind, that the sale of land in Warren county, as advertised in the Sentinel, will take place on the 18th of February, and not the 19th, as first appeared.

From the "Haversack" of the February number of the Land We Love we copy the following excellent hit: "It was certainly a Yankee who said the difficulty in getting President Johnson out of the Presidential chair arose from the fact that he went into it tight, but it remained for an old reb to discover that Ben. Butler's eye and a damaged musket would each stay cocked all the day wore out."

IN a former number of the Sentinel, we were gratified in announcing that a splendid lithograph portrait of the late Rev. James Phillips, D. D., would appear in connection with a memoir, prepared by the daughter of that gentleman. The portrait, instead of being a lithograph, will be engraved upon steel, by Sartain, of Philadelphia, one of the best engravers in our land. And, we are further informed, that the Rev. Joseph M. Wilson, proposes to publish his Almanac to preserve and perpetuate the current history of the Presbyterian Church, —the annual proceedings to be collected from official records. The biographies are collected from original sources with care and impartiality, and the portraits, accompanied, are to be engraved in a style honorable to the art.

MRS. CADY IN WOMAN SUFFRAGE.—"She protested against the enfranchisement of another man until women were crowned with all the rights of citizenship." So long as there is a class of disfranchised citizens in this country, the condition of affairs is even worse than a white man's government. In proportion as you multiply tyrants you destroy liberty. She wished to know of all sensible persons whether it was right or Christian like for intelligent women like Mrs. Lucretia Mott, Lydia Maria Childe, Fannie Kemball, Anna Dickinson and others she would not mention, to be governed by men who knew not the meaning of the word suffrage.

This is rather hard on the "contrabands," but it is not logical and, in some parts, philosophical? If the negroes "who know not the meaning of the word suffrage" are to be "universally" given the right to vote, why stop? Why not include women?—Wash. Cor. Balt. Sun.

NATIONAL BANKS.—The finance committee of the Senate met to-day and agreed to some further amendments to the national bank law, prohibiting the use of certified checks; allowing banking on a specie basis, with a deposit of sixty-five per cent., and requiring the bank statement to be made up at such arbitrary and uncertain date as it may be called for, rather than at fixed periods.

The banking currency committee of the House to-day unanimously instructed their chairman to prepare an amendment to the national currency act prohibiting national banks from certifying any checks, unless the maker thereof has on hand at the time the funds to meet it.—New York Times, 19th.

For the Sentinel.

MR. EDITOR:—I wrote you a few days since that there was a grand conspiracy on foot to sell out all the State's interest in our works of internal improvement, for the special benefit of those who have, in one way or another, come into possession of large sums of new bonds of the State. The first step to be taken in the programme, as laid down by the "grand consolidated stock jobbing and financial ring" of North Carolina, has been taken,—and that the entire programme will be carried out, as laid down, by the highest official head-centre of the ring, to the accomplishment of the object sought to be attained, I have not the faintest shadow of a doubt, indeed I may almost assert, that, come what may, there will be no failure in this grand project.

It is believed, by the best informed financiers in the ring, that by the time the cars reach the Tennessee line they can make such arrangements as will enable them to have all the State's interest in these Roads transferred to the members of the ring, and their heirs forever, at a very small sum, compared with their original cost. I was, consequently, prepared and was waiting to hear the State Treasurer raise the cry that money was, now, very scarce, in all the great commercial cities, and I had intended to have made that prediction to you in my recent letter, but in the hurry of the moment it escaped me. But sure as fate the alarm has been given of the tightness of the money market, in all the great money centres just at the right time, in the right place, and by the right man, to secure the necessary steps to be taken by the present Legislature to enable the shrewd managers of the well organized stock jobbery and financial ring to confiscate the State's interest in our Railroad's and every thing else for their special benefit and agrandizement. And here let me remark, if the object of the ring is denied, the fact that His Excellency Gov. Holden is head centre of, and the main spring that moves the entire concern. It is a pretty considerable job viewed from various points, but it is thought the cupidity, zeal and anamosity that inspires the breasts of a large majority of the Ring taken in connection with their official position and prestage as party leaders, will enable them to drive all their recommendations through the Legislature precisely as commanded by the Ring. The Governor no doubt thinks that he has influence and power to carry out the programme laid down by the afore said; Ring we are told the "best laid plans o' men and mice gang oft astray; and so it may and should be with the Governor and his financial sway in this instance.—Indeed, I do not see how it can be otherwise, unless the Gover or and his mercenary allies, show at once for repudiation. Let us turn to the fact of the case for an instant. It will be seen by turning to the Charter of the North Carolina Railroad, that all the income of the Road is solemnly pledged in the charter and on the face of the two millions of bonds issued, and sold to raise the money to pay the State's subscription to the capital stock of the Road, over and above what may be necessary to operate the same to meet and pay the interest of the bonds just named. After the expenditure of all this money, it was found that it would require at least another million to complete and equip the Road, and the Legislature ordered another million of bonds to be issued, and the State was to be considered in the light of a prefered stockholder—that is, after this interest on the two first millions was paid. The State was prefered as a stockholder to all others to the amount of one million. Thus we see the income of the Road is solemnly pledged, and that pledge thrice recorded to the State and certain bondholders, that on the occurring of just such a contingency as has happened the income of the North Carolina Railroad, if no other should be handed over to the State and bondholders. But those are not the only incumbrances on the North Carolina Railroad. There is another debt of some 700,000 or 800,000 bearing 8 per cent interest for the payment of which the Road and all its fixtures have been mortgaged, and all who attended the last annual meeting need not be told how zealously his Excellency and his associates, in the financial ring, labored to increase this 8 per cent mortgage debt of the Company.

The above is a fare statement of the financial affairs of the Road, as far as its debts are concerned. And now that the State has failed to pay the January interest on the bonds, I should like to know, what is to hinder any one or more of the holders of the first named bonds, from enjoining the Treasurer of the Road or State either, and thereby prohibiting them from paying any part of the net earnings of the Road to any one else than to themselves or for any other purposes than those specified in the Charter and on the face of the aforesaid Bonds.—And surely no one will deny if such authority did not exist in law or equity, the recorded honor and plighted faith of the State binds all her inhabitants, from the highest to the lowest, to the faithful observance of these sacred pledges. They were given at a time and under peculiar circumstances, and in order to make the Bonds sell at a heavy premium. Now for especial benefit of the ring, all these most sacred pledges, aye the thrice recorded pledge and the plighted faith of the State, when North Carolina was a State; are all to be ignored and repudiated for the benefit of this Ring in and about Raleigh. Well, go on gentlemen, and time will soon show how far the people will be induced to follow your example in the way of repudiation.

GRANT TO THE WHITE MAN: GREETING.

There is something Original in the flavor of Grant's interview of Tuesday with divers congratulating blacks. Whereas to all and sundry white delegations that heretofore have done him the honor to call he has only been able to say hum! and ha! and ho! to this collocation of blacks he finds his tongue to such purpose as to make the longest political address of his life. But then why not? These negroes approached him "in the name of seven hundred thousand electors of African descent," and the man but recognized his maker's name. It was not the white votes that elected him, and he knows it. Wherefore it is that he puffs his tobacco smoke in the white man's face, but can pluck forth his cigar to the negro and make him the first connected and respectable response he has ever been known to utter.

All this is very well. Let us have peace by all means. Only the day was when no President elect of the United States would have dared oppose a contemptious silence to the men of his own race and then turn in affable reply to their acullions.—World.

The "trooly loil" patriots of North Carolina made a nice thing of it the other day. On the 1st instant, $300,000 interest was due on the State debt. The State couldn't pay—"trooly loil" State Treasurer in great grief thereat; "trooly loil" Governor in tears. Down go State bonds, of course, which shook to the credit of the State, inflicts intense pain on the "trooly loil" ring. Having confidence, however, they buy largely at a low figure, after which the "trooly loil" State officers advertise that the deficient interest is to be paid, State bonds go up, and the "trooly loyal" ring pockets reward of their "loility" in the shape of a handsome profit on the transaction.—*N. ### Our Afternoon Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25, P. M.

The Election Committee postponed the Louisiana contested election for a further hearing to-morrow.

The Reconstruction Committee heard a number of Radical Methodists in opposition to the plan of the Committee of Nine; as it affects the Church property.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25, M.

The House allowed the Arkansas Representatives to full pay for the Fortieth Congress.—Robinson introduced a protest against the ratification of the Alabama claims treaty.

SENATE.—The Judiciary Committee reported adversely to seating Hill from Georgia. Trumbull submitted a minority report.

The Retrenchment Committee reported the House bill repealing the tenure of office bill with amendments.

Our Midnight Dispatches.

FROM WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25, P. M.

The amendments to the House bill, repealing the tenure of office bill, provides that Cabinet officers may be removed during recess, and other officers suspended at the President's discretion.

An autograph petition from Mrs. Lincoln, for a pension, was presented to the Senate to-day.

Several Editors are here because of a meeting of a Direct Trade Convention at Knoxville, February 10th, and desire the postponement of the Southern Press meeting at Mobile.

Gen Schofield appears before the Reconstruction Committee to-morrow, in reference to Virginia affairs.

The Senate Judiciary Committee will report adversely to seating Hill, among other reasons, because the Georgia Legislature comprised ineligible members.

Trumbull's minority report in favoring the seating of Hill says, because he is an unobjectionable man, and Congress has recognized Georgia as a State.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25, P. M.

SENATE.—Edmunds in reporting amendments to the House bill repealing the tenure-of-office bill, moved that it be indefinitely postponed.

After a struggle for the precedence of business, Sherman's currency bill was postponed by a vote of 21 to 30, and the Pacific Railroad bill was discussed to adjournment.

HOUSE.—Among other bills under the regular call was the appointing of a Committee of seven to investigate the election irregularities in South Carolina, and appropriations for the improvement of the Savannah River.

Several Railroad and removal of disability bills were introduced by Cordly, for the better protection of loyal men in the South.

The suffrage amendments were postponed to Wednesday, and the Denver Railroad bill was resumed and referred to the Committee on Public Lands, which was equivalent to killing, when the House adjourned.

EX-SHERIFF ROBBED.

WILMINGTON, Jan 25, P. M.

Robbers attacked the House of ex-Sheriff Reuben King, in Robeson County, near Lumberton, on the 23rd inst., mortally wounding King and S. E. Ward, a visitor to King's House. Little hopes of recovery. The perpetrators of the foul crime escaped.

FROM RICHMOND.

RICHMOND, Jan. 25, P. M.

Gen. Stoneman issued an order to-day, appointing Generals Wilcox, and Granger and Col. Franklin to constitute a Board, which shall investigate and report on applications for any of the offices in Virginia, except the Executive and State offices in the Capitol, and this will enable the commanding General to fill vacancies now existing, and which it is contemplated, may exist within the next thirty days. All applications for office to be addressed to Col E. W. Stone, Recorder of the Board, at Richmond.

The military have, so far, removed seven hundred and twenty-nine civil officers, leaving about three thousand officers whose occupants are ineligible and to be removed.

The value of the offices range from seven hundred to six thousand dollars per annum.

NEW ARRANGEMENT.

The RALEIGH SENTINEL having passed under the Editorial management of the undersigned, it will, from the present date, be conducted by him.

It will be the zealous and fearless advocate of the CONSTITUTION of the United States, seeking to bring the people back to their ancient reverence for that immortal instrument, and to restore the policy of the country to that honored standard, as the only guarantee of National prosperity.

It will do justice to the men and measures of the present day, whenever they may merit it, but it will unsparingly lash and denounce all who set themselves up in opposition to the Federal Constitution, and hold up to the public indignation corruption and imbecility in high places.

It will ardently seek the promotion of the best interests of North Carolina,—moral, educational, material and political.

THE LATEST NEWS

From every quarter, both by mail and telegraph, will be carefully collated and presented.

Full and correct market and financial reports will be given.

And, in one word, no effort will be spared to make the SENTINEL, in all respects, a reliable

MY STOCK IS LARGE AND VERY COMplete. Allow me to say that you see some very strange advertisements. Some say they bought goods before the rise—some after the decline—some just in time—some in luck again—some buy goods cheaper than anybody else—some selling goods at unprecedentedly low prices—some controlling the trade &c., &c., and all such stuff. What a lucky set of individuals!

Now just let ME tell you, that there is more humbug than poetry in all this. Don't every man, woman and child know that it is humbug—large enough to be seen even with one eye shut? So let them talk, puff and blow, but STOP, LOOK OUT! HANDS OFF! and show your good judgment by
